

UBC Orientation & Transition Volunteer Opportunity Posting

UBC Orientations is operated out of the Office of Student Development within the Vice President, Students' portfolio. In the Faculty of Science, our work focuses on the successful orientation and transition of new to UBC students in our faculty, be they domestic, international or transfer students. Orientation & Transition programs offer students a great way to learn about campus life and Vancouver culture, as well as make new friends. Volunteers gain experience working in a team setting, as well as contributing to the planning and implementation of our orientation programs.

Science Squad Leader – UBC Orientations, Student Development

Primary Functions:

There are approximately 22 Science Squad Leader positions available through UBC Orientations including both New and Transfer student leaders. Leaders in all faculties make up our senior pool of Orientation & Transition volunteers.

Note: Recruitment for other Orientation & Transition Leader roles, including Squad Managers, MUG Leaders, Welcome Team, and Welcome Leaders will begin in January 2012.

Science Squad Leaders have three major functions:

1. Leading Peers

Within each faculty, UBC Orientations splits participating student leaders into small groups of approximately 10 people. These student leaders are put into groups, or "Squads". These squads are led by one senior student leader, the Squad Leader. As a Science Squad Leader, you will be responsible for leading these squads by:

- Assisting Orientation & Transition Leader recruitment drives (general and faculty/school specific) in January 2012 and selection processes including the Group Interview in February 2012.
- Facilitating sessions for the student leaders in your squad at training in March 2012, late August 2012 and early September 2012, with the support of Science Student Development.
- Keeping your squad updated about the Orientation & Transition program by passing on emails from the UBC Orientations staff.
- Providing support to the development of the student leaders in your squad through their summer skill development online training program.
- Providing support through bi-weekly emails to student leaders Sept through December 2012.
- Providing support to the members of your squad and building YOUR team to be successful!

2. "Brains of the Operation" - (BOO) Crew - Student Steering Committee

All UBC Orientations Squad Leaders will brainstorm, implement ideas and provide feedback on Orientation & Transition programs. In this capacity, all Squad Leaders must stay in regular communication with:

- The Orientation & Transition Team
- Their respective Faculty Contacts and/or support staff from other campus units (ex. International Student Development)
- Orientation & Transition Leaders in their groups

3. Involvement Coach at the Centre for Student Involvement

The Centre for Student Involvement (CSI) is a hub designed to support student programs and provide a space that can accommodate meeting together, working on projects, and supporting student-led initiatives to create a campus culture of involvement. This is a lively and social space where students are encouraged to make connections with others and form collaborative networks. As part of your Squad Leader role with UBC Orientations you'll have an opportunity to connect in with students across campus and share your experience and expertise concerning involvement at UBC. You will be responsible for:

- Assisting with the promotion of Involvement Coaching between September 3-7
- Act as an Involvement Coach for 2 hours between September 10-14

Time Commitment - Squad Leaders must:

- Attend monthly BOO meetings throughout the academic year and summer months leading up to Orientation (usually once a month, 1.5-2 hrs, December 2011 to December 2012)
- Attend the UBC Student Leadership Conference on Saturday, January 14th, 2012 (all day)
- Attend BOOt camp from January 20th – 22nd, 2012 (all weekend)
- Attend Orientation & Transition Leader Recruitment Drive (throughout January/February, 2-4 hrs)
- Assist with the facilitation of Orientation & Transition Leader Group Interviews (throughout February, 7 hrs)
- Assist with the facilitation of March Training (for all Orientation & Transition Leaders) – dates vary by Faculty
- Imagine-specific: work with a professor to plan a Student Success Workshop for Imagine Day (Faculty contacts will assist in recruiting professors in February/March, Squad Leaders will plan the workshop between April and August)
- Attend training sessions for their role in late August, early September
- Imagine: Assist with facilitating skill-based training sessions for MUG Leaders in early September (0.5 day).
- Imagine: Attend and assist with facilitating a logistical training day & mock run-through for all Orientation & Transition leaders in early September (1 day).
- Attend Imagine Day (Tuesday, September 4th, 2012)
- Maintain regular contact (via email, in person meetings, etc.) during the summer with the Faculty Contacts and your Orientation Professor that you will be working with on the Student Success Workshop (Imagine).
- Maintain regular contact (via email, in person meetings, etc.) during the summer with your Squad, and provide Orientations updates to your leaders.
- Act as an Involvement Coach at the Centre for Student Involvement in the fall (2-5 hours)
- Squad Leaders to maintain communication and support with orientations leaders September – December 2012 (via email, Skype or telephone, etc.)
