

Extending your search

What other approaches are used to find research?

HANDSEARCHING of key journals	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Need journal titles? • Ulrich's (UBC Library) & • Journal Citation Reports (UBC Library) are helpful sources.
REFERENCES (PEARLING & SNOWBALLING)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Citation linking tools are now common in many databases and search tools. • Be sure to use Web of Science (UBC Library) and Google Scholar to discover articles that have cited the 'classic' articles.
KEY RESEARCHERS in the field	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Contact by email. • Be sure to check Cochrane Collaboration website for reviews that are in progress (P) or intended (T). • Also try the new registry of systematic review protocols proposed for the Centre for Reviews and Dissemination, University of York.

