

metropolis

```
graph TD; A[metropolis] --> B[money reduces individuality to a quantitative level]; A --> C[the intellectualist is only interested in relations that can be rationally understood]; B <--> C; B --> D[production for the market rather than for the customer]; C --> D;
```

money reduces individuality to a quantitative level the intellectualist is only interested in relations that can be rationally understood production for the market rather than for the customer