Facilitated Interdisciplinary Research Exchanges

FIRE Talks are a new series of interdisciplinary research discussions and exchanges run by graduate students for graduate students. They are operated out of the new Research Commons and are offered once a month.

Come join us as we explore the topic: Who Else Cares About Your Research? The Art of Communicating to Multiple Audiences.

When: TBD

Where: TBD

Submit your ideas, thoughts & anecdotes to: research.common@ubc.ca (deadline TBD) or just stop by the FIRE Talk. For more information, email us or visit us at: <http://researchcommons.library.ubc.ca>.
